XI Polish Drying Symposium

with foreign participation

13-16 September 2005
Poznań, Poland

First Announcement

XI Polish Drying Symposium
with foreign participation
Poznań University of Technology
Pl. Marii Skłodowskiej - Curie 2
60-965 Poznań, Poland

The Symposium is under auspices of:

Drying Section of the Committee of Chemical and Process Engineering of the Polish Academy of Sciences
Polish Drying Association
Poznań University of Technology-
Faculty of Chemical Technology
August Cieszkowski Agricultural University of Poznań-
Faculty of Agriculture
Faculty of Wood Technology

Patronage

Rector of Poznań University of Technology
Rector of August Cieszkowski Agricultural University of Poznań

General Information

The primary task of the Symposium is to provide an overview and estimation of research methods in the area of modeling and designing drying processes, as well as new technological solutions and constructions of dryers, and also to present and exchange ideas between researchers and representatives of industry.

The objective of the Symposium is to create a co-operation platform for the wide application of research work in developing new technological solutions for drying processes and advanced design for dryers.

The topics of the Symposium comprise a range of theoretical and practical issues related to drying with the special emphasis of the following problems:

- fundamentals of drying
- modeling of drying processes
- physical properties of dried materials
- energy consumption in drying
- ecological aspects of drying
- quality of dried products
- safety of drying
- design of dryers
- new constructions of dryers
- drying technologies of agricultural products
- alternative drying technologies

Presentations

Opening lecture:
Prof. Arun S. Mujumdar (Singapore)
Closing lecture:
Prof. Czesław Strumiłło (Poland)

The following presentation forms are scheduled:
